"a colourful and amazing world where into bottomless holes, time sags and slows near a planet, and the unbounded extensions of interstellar space ripple and sway like the surface of the sea." - Carlo Rovelli, Seven Brief Lessons on Physics