

Images to hold new metaphors, to describe the more than human, to imagine new relationships. The background is now Everard, someone else chosen to live spatial imaginations affect the spaces which they describe, and how the act of drawing is complicit in this process.
terraterterra